Welcome to the Story Idea Book #1 - by Romance Subgenre

what's the difference

There are a ton of Story Starter books out there - I should know because I think I've purchased them all.

And not a single one of them helped me to actually come up with a Story Ideas.

Why not? Because they're DIFFERENT!

STORY STARTERS ARE SITUATIONS LIKE...

- Aliens have invaded Earth - they look just like us but they only have one gender: Men.
- Major Insurance Companies are giving super discounted health insurance rates for women willing to take a chastity test
- Marriage to humanoid androids has been legalized in the US
- The British Prime Minister falls in love with a spy sent to kill him

STORY IDEAS ANSWER the question... WHAT'S YOUR STORY ABOUT?

And include a description of the story's

- Hero
- Heroine
- The hero or heroine's goal
- What's preventing him/her from achieving it

And yes, these are the same criteria from Lesson #1 from the Plot your 1st Romance Book Course

Story Ideas double as an IMDB description of a movie or a TV listing from a Hallmark Movie - they tell you the who and the what, not just an ambiguous but intriguing situation which is what I've found in pretty much all Story Starter Books
